HI THERE!

We founded the China Education Symposium (CES) because we believe education has the power to transform individuals and societies. In a world facing rapid change, CES aims to bridge cultures, spark innovation, and inspire dialogue that transcends boundaries. It is a platform where passionate educators, visionary leaders, and curious learners come together to shape the future of learning. By fostering meaningful connections and championing bold ideas, we strive to ignite solutions that address global educational challenges.

ABOUT CHINA EDUCATION SYMPOSIUM

China Education Symposium (CES), established in 2010, is an official student organization at the Harvard Graduate School of Education (HGSE). Over the past decade, it has become one of the most influential platforms for promoting dialogue on China's education among top academic institutions in the United States. Guided by its mission—"Inspire, Innovate, Impact"—CES serves as a bridge connecting educators, researchers, policymakers, entrepreneurs, and thought leaders from China and the U.S.

"We hope that one day, in every corner of China, everyone will have equal access to the joy of learning, allowing education to enrich their lives and illuminate their futures. Through all the challenges and triumphs along the way, CES has never lost sight of its original mission and continues to forge ahead with unwavering determination!"

TRAVERSE DIMENSIONS, DIVERSIFY EDUCATION

In April 2023, CES held its 14th annual symposium in Boston, marking its first in-person gathering since the pandemic. Prominent speakers included Michelle Wu, Mayor of Boston; Mark Elliott, Harvard Vice Provost for International Affairs; Yasheng Huang, MIT Sloan Professor; and Vicky Wang, CEO of WuKong Education. Key speeches focused on “Prospects and Challenges in China and U.S. Educational Research,” “Technology as a Catalyst for Educational Vitality,” and “Cross-Border Educational Experiences: A Dialogue.”

Meanwhile, CES featured six specialized panels on innovation in education, children's education, STEAM education, psychological education, inclusive education, and heritage education. Leaders from various fields shared insights, offered fresh perspectives and stimulated meaningful conversations.

“We aspire to harness the infinite potential of our team to co-create infinite possibilities for this year’s China Education Symposium, as well as for the future of education in China. This boundless vision is the inspiration behind our team’s name—’ CES ∞.’”

HUMANITIES AND TECHNOLOGY: EMBRACING THE NEW WAVE OF EDUCATION

With the rapid advancement of artificial intelligence, technology is transforming education by reshaping traditional practices. Tools like personalized learning platforms, virtual teaching assistants, and large language models are fostering innovation and enhancing equity in learning. The 15th CES, held from April 19 to 21, 2024, embraced this transformative era with a hybrid format that combined in-person and virtual participation. The event opened with a keynote address by Ambassador Huang Ping, former Chinese Consul General in New York, who highlighted the importance of global educational collaboration. Key moments included a dialogue between Howard Gardner, creator of the Multiple Intelligences Theory, and Fernando Reimers, Director of the Global Education Innovation Initiative at Harvard, on the intersection of human values and technology in higher education.

Over three days, CES hosted five virtual panels on critical topics: AI and education equity, media literacy and digital citizenship, sustainable development through education, mental health in schools, and practical AI applications in learning.

We also introduced two special events—a corporate recruitment fair connecting top education technology firms with talent, and a reading education roundtable fostering collaboration between scholars and practitioners. By merging traditional wisdom with cutting-edge innovation, CES 2024 offered a bold and forward-thinking vision for the future of education.

“Higher education is a vital cornerstone in advancing human society. The education systems of China and the U.S. each offer unique strengths, and by learning from one another, we can jointly lead the way in educational innovation and transformation. The CES team warmly invites all participants to explore the distinctive qualities of both nations' high-quality education systems and collaborate in driving global education toward a brighter future.”

THE 2025 CES

UNITING VISIONARIES, INNOVATING EDUCATION

At CES 2025, we're shaping the future of global education by uniting thought leaders, innovators, and changemakers. Our Main Symposium, hosted in person at Harvard, will feature compelling keynote speeches, thought-provoking panel discussions, and interactive workshops. The opening of these sessions will explore the dynamic fusion of heritage and innovation, with a spotlight on cross-cultural education, AI-driven personalized learning, and sustainable models for a brighter educational future. Attendees will engage with cutting-edge ideas and collaborate on actionable strategies that redefine learning for generations to come.

To broaden our reach and foster a truly global dialogue, we're offering six virtual panels—Family Education, Educational Technology, Future Innovative Education, Life Education, Education Through Art, and Cross-cultural and Multilingual Education—that enhance participation from leaders around the world. Beyond discussions, CES 2025 also includes exclusive featured events, including the Postgraduate Scholars Conference and Social Emotional Learning Workshop, designed to create real-world opportunities. Furthermore, the prestigious VIP Networking Banquet at Harvard Loeb House promises a gala dinner and meaningful connections among distinguished speakers, VIP guests, and partners. Whether in-person or virtual, CES 2025 provides a platform where groundbreaking ideas meet global impact.
